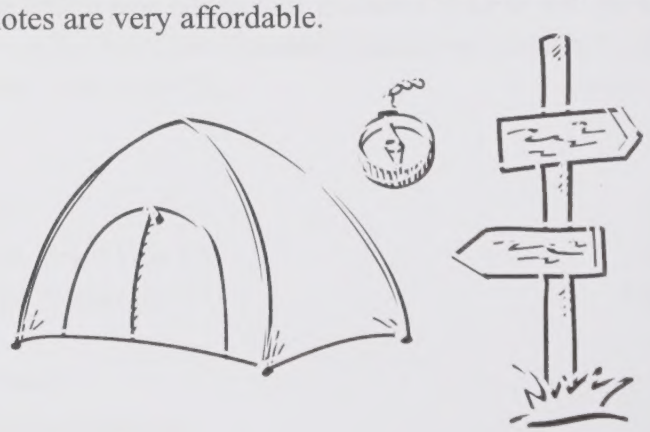
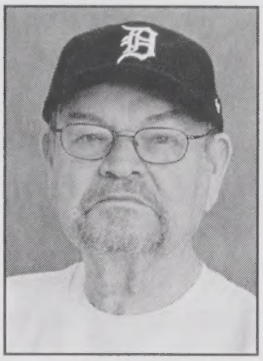
CLUB NEWS: I continue to see excellent articles monthly in the Currency Club of Chester County. This club newsletter continues to be educational and informative. Dave Stitely, the editor does a great job. As I have said in the past, the newsletter alone is worth the dues. Their Newsletter comes over the internet, allowing the extensive use of color. As time goes by and more members become computer literate perhaps we could consider two versions of the Rag Picker, one via the internet and one printed for traditional members. This would be a great cost saver. We need to consider that as the cost of the Rag Picker exceeds our income from membership dues.

EDITORS NOTES: I've been watching auctions for more than 10 years. They seem to offer Q the best buys. Be careful of raw notes, however, as you might not get the grade you're looking for. Also note that PCGS with grades in italics are notes that have problems and used to be called "Apparent." So they may have pin holes, small tears or staining on the back that you can't see. Also PMG now comments on the back for minor issues that used to be called "Net." Heritage is pretty good about describing what the problems are. All in all EPQ or PPQ notes are without problems. Many non PPQless or EPGless notes have been pressed, but look pretty good. Small shows are good places to cherry pick if you're looking for Mules or other scarce notes. This is especially true if it is stock at a Coin Dealers table, as they are not always up on scarce paper varieties. Really ugly notes will probably never appreciate in value unless they are rare. Even then they will not keep pace with better conditioned notes. Set a limit for yourself if bidding on the internet. It is easy to get excited when a note is going higher, but the other bidder might not be aware of true value so don't count on him to mean a note is worth what he is bidding. I continue to enjoy world notes and buy those that appeal to me for attractiveness. As you can see the Rag Picker is getting thinner and thinner, think about writing a guest article, or send me copies of your good finds so I can put them in the Rag Picker.

OUR COVER: This month's cover is one of my recent acquisitions. The stars for R&S pairs had printing numbers of 12,000 notes each, or 1,000 sheets. They don't come up for auction very often, but in Very Fine to Extra Fine they have come down a bit and I was able to afford this one. The non stars are also down a bit and real bargains in Extra Fine or so. I like the looks of notes in grade 35 or better, they really look nice and in 35, many notes are very affordable.

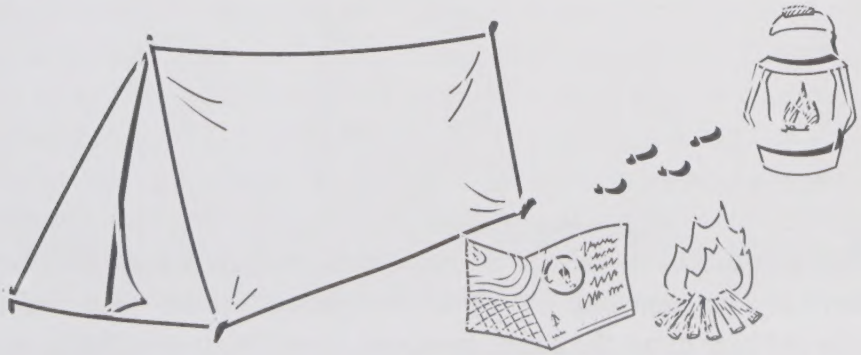


PRESIDENT'S COLUMN:



Have you checked out the Eric Newman Portal yet. If you haven't explored it yet, get in there at nnp.wustl.edu Their website continues to grow and contains an amazing treasure of data.

My latest travels included Kansas City for the Really Big show. It continues to be the reunion show for me as I see so many old friends. I also added $10 and $20 FRNB Minneapolis stars to my collection. They are quite scarce with 12,000 printed for the 20 and 24,000 for the 10. I enjoyed visiting Scott Lindquist, my go to small size dealer and the Perakis team, father and son. The Fractional folks got together for dinner at Jack Stacks, a famous local Bar-B-Q location. Foot traffic at the show was off a bit, as a number of younger collectors seem to prefer internet bidding. They miss out on the personal interactions that are so enjoyable at a show like this. I find myself often learning a great deal from other collectors. This is yet another benefit of attending shows in person. I have friends from Georgia, Tennessee, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Wyoming, Missouri, Minnesota, New York, New Jersey, Canada, etc. This is a great show to reconnect with old friends. I also had a nice chat with Larry Falater on the phone recently. He couldn't make it to KC, but I'll see him at our MSNS show Thanksgiving time. It isn't that far away and I'm already working on my exhibit. As I mentioned in the Editors column, prices are a bit soft right now. Of course they can always get softer still, but I think now is a good time to pick up a note you've been craving. Look for bargains at the Heritage Tuesday sales on the internet. Although prices were a bit soft at CSNS, they did seem stronger at KC. We'll see if that continues at the ANA coming up in August, and followed shortly after by Long Beach.



COLLECTING SMALL SIZE FRN'S

By Bill Brandimore

Collecting Small Size Federal Reserve notes can be challenging and a lot of fun. There are a number of ways to collect and some challenges along the way. If you're under 30 I would suggest loading up on star notes of current issues. If you look for star notes with 640,000 or less printing, these are most likely to increase in value. As you age they should go up in value. If you're an older collector you can work on small head FRNs in a different manner. They are not in circulation anymore, but a number of dealers have nice stocks of reserves. You can pick one of the 12 Federal Districts to collect and enjoy hunting down 1928, 1934 and 1950 notes, as well as the more available 1960's series and up. You can collect District sets of all 12 districts for a given issue, or find that many years not all the districts issued notes. Stars are a nice challenge and you can find many of them at moderate prices in high grades. Probably the hardest district is Minneapolis, as less were printed, especially years ago when the population of that district was very low. The Minneapolis district encompasses Minnesota, the western Upper Peninsula of Michigan, the northwestern section of Wisconsin, North and South Dakota, Wyoming and Montana. These are low population states, and less notes were issued for a smaller population. Other tough districts include Atlanta, Dallas, San Francisco, and Richmond. All the districts have some very scarce issues, however, so picking where you live is not a bad idea.

Next, get a copy of the Schwartz/Lindquist Small Size US Catalog. The 10th printing is the last one issued and it is currently out of print. You can find it on EBay, however, and any of the older issues will provide you with excellent information on the production and numbering of notes; also it will provide great information on how many notes were printed for each denomination, district and series. Armed with that data you can begin cherry picking. Cherry picking consists of looking for scarce notes that you know about but dealers might not. This is especially true if you are looking at notes in a coin dealer's case. Coin dealers regularly pick up notes along with coins in collections that they buy. They usually don't pay much and sell them in junk boxes or just in stacks of currency they have accumulated. I think it is fair game to cherry pick dealers. The little old lady down the street, however, should be treated fairly, as she is relying on you to be fair with her. I generally pay a bit over wholesale prices and tell people that I am giving them more than the dealer would give them, but less than they would charge me. In this manner we both get a good deal.

As you get into collecting and study the book, you'll get interested in looking for mules. Mules are notes with a back that wasn't printed for the face of the note. Backs were printed up ahead of time and when the BEP changed the size of the plate letters from ½ to 1 full millimeter, they continued using the backs with ½ millimeter plate letter issues. This occurred during the changeover from 1935 to 1935A for silver certificates and 1934 to 34A FRN's. Since they were finishing up the 1935 and 1934 issues at the same time they were starting the 1935A and 1934A notes the plates of the new backs were also sometimes used on the old 1934 and 1935 notes. These mules are scarce and occur on FRN's, and Legal Tender notes as well as silver certificates.
Another good thing about FRN's is that you can be satisfied with a scarce note in a lower grade, as those might be the only ones out there.

With this information I will turn you loose on Small Size collecting. Email me and tell about your finds. I'll highlight them in the Rag Picker and maybe even use them on a cover.

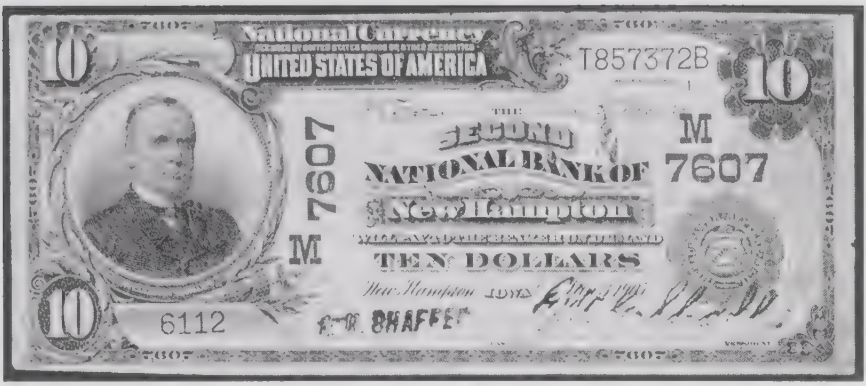
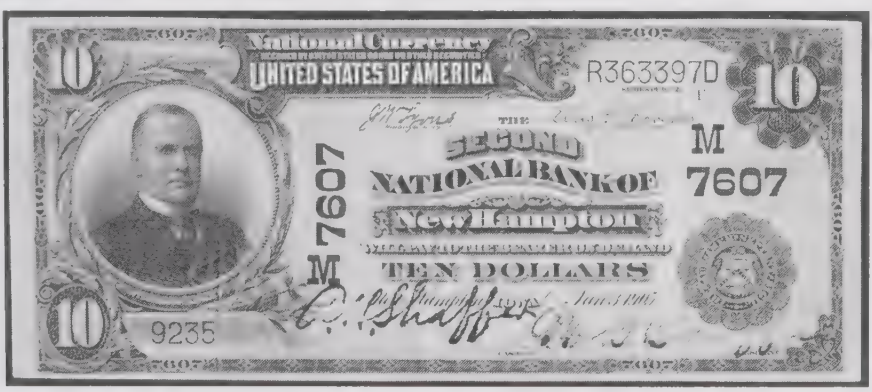
SECOND NATIONAL BANK OF NEW HAMPTON BLOCK LETTER SIGNATURE

By Frank Clark #2104

I once saw in a collection many years ago a Series 1902 Plain Back on The City National Bank of Wichita Falls, Texas, charter number 4248, that had the signature of Cashier Oral Jones. In this case Mr. Jones "signature" was rubber stamped in block letters. I thought that this was highly unusual. All other Cashier Oral Jones signatures that I had seen before and after have been either of the rubber stamped cursive style or of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing engraved cursive style.



Then at the 2008 FUN Show, I acquired a Fr. 624 Series 1902 $10 Plain Back on The Second National Bank of New Hampton, Iowa, charter number 7607, with the rubber stamped block letter "signature" of Cashier A.H. Shaffer. It has serial number 6112-E. I thought I would look for a cursive Cashier A.H. Shaffer signature note to match up with my block letter "signature" example. Success arrived in 2017 in the form of another Fr. 624 with serial number 9235-F. Cashier A.H. Shaffer's cursive signature is rubber stamped on this later acquisition.



The Second National Bank's Series 1902 $10 Plain Back notes began with serial number 6101. The note that I own with the A.H. Shaffer's block letter "signature" has serial number 6112-E. Therefore, this $10 was part of the twelfth sheet that was delivered to charter number 7607. The rubber stamped block "signature" must have been a temporary measure. My speculation is that A.H. Shaffer pen signed earlier Series 1902 Red Seal and Date Back notes and then he decided to switch to rubber stamping his signature. He used a block letter "signature" rubber stamp until his cursive signature rubber stamp had been prepared. There is pictured on the Heritage Auctions website a Series 1902 $10 Red Seal with serial number 390-C and it has the penned signature of Cashier A.H. Shaffer.

The Shaffer family ran this Chickasaw County bank for many years. It started as a private bank in 1892. The original incorporators were, W. F. Shaffer, president, T. K. Young, vice president, and A. H. Shaffer, cashier. These three were also the first directors. The original capital stock was $50,000. A two-story building for the bank was built in 1901 to the tune of $5,000. The bank's status was changed to a national bank in 1905. W.G. Shaffer was the president and he served from 1905-22 and again in that office from 1924-26. The year 1923 saw W.H. Shaffer as president. A.H. Shaffer was the first cashier and he served in that position from 1905 to 1926. L.C. Shaffer also got into the act serving as assistant cashier during the years 1925-26. The bank succumbed on July 14, 1931 with a Treasury Department prognosis of incompetent management and a local depression.

A.H. Shaffer was born in Jacksonville, Iowa on February 26, 1866. He also held many prominent Iowa banking positions outside of The Second National Bank of New Hampton. He was the president and a director of the First State Savings Bank of Ionia, the president and a director of the State Savings Bank of Orchard, a director of the First State Savings Bank of Waucoma, a director of the State Savings Bank of Bassett, and a member of the board of directors of the First State Bank of Fredericksburg.

It was also discovered while doing internet searches for this article that according to The Chicago Banker, Volume 45, 1918, page 101, that eight arrests had been made following an attempt to paint yellow the home of A.H. Shaffer. The motive for this "paint job" was that the banker was seeking an exemption from the draft for his son-in-law. You never know where a little research will lead you.

Here is a great club you might want to consider if you have any interest in United States Fractional Currency of the Civil War period.

With the $30 application fee you will receive two books along with one year's membership. The first is The Encyclopedia of Fractional Currency by Milton Friedberg. It is the definitive explanation of all Fractional Currency notes and the various Specimen, Proof and Experimental issues. Well illustrated, it will tell you perhaps more than you want to know.

The second book is called the Simplified Encyclopedia. As the name implies it is a more compact book dealing with less arcane issues. This is a good place to start if you are a beginner, with the regular Encyclopedia as a great reference to delve into for more information.

The FCCB meets every June at the Memphis Paper money show. Members also get together informally at the FUN Show in Florida.

The FCCB is composed of dedicated members who enjoy sharing their knowledge. Join us and join the fun of Fractional Currency!
